A passion for what's possible

Dear Friends,

I am as excited as ever by our work. We can, and want to do more for the people we serve and with your help we can do more! We work hard to manage our resources efficiently and that's why our overhead costs are lower than any other human services organization. Our attention is on anticipating and meeting the needs of the individuals, whether in Residential Services, In-home Supports, Guardianship Services or Supportive Living. We take initiative, accept responsibility and create possibility.

We operate our organic farm in North Reading, MA to educate and demonstrate healthy living, create positive and inclusive experiences in nature and connect people with the surrounding community.

Our drop-in center is open for individuals when they need it most. This unique initiative remains a place where people connect with one another, find support and encouragement and feel welcomed.

Working with Whole Foods-Bedford and local restaurants, surplus food is distributed through our Food Pantry program using our resources to provide volunteer opportunities for people to give back to their communities. We maximize budgetary assistance to individuals living in their homes and most importantly, deliver food directly to those who really need it.

We are asked by the probate courts of Massachusetts and the Department of Developmental Disabilities to provide guardianship throughout the Commonwealth. We support adults who require guidance and assistance and who are the most vulnerable of people. They have no one else to stand for them.

We are willing to step in often where no one else is able. We stretch our resources where needed, frequently in the most challenging of circumstances. We believe we can find the answers, that everyone belongs and that each person has something special to offer. However, our answers depend on your support. Please give generously so that we can do more. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Kevin J. Leahy
President & Chief Executive Officer
